Lake

Boračko lake

It lies on a elevation of 399 m in northeast foothill of mountain Prenj. This massif has fifteen alps higher than 2000 m, of which the highest one is called Zelena glava (2155 m). From the west side, it is surrounded by downhill and wooded alps of Crna gora (1343 m) and Borašnica (1854 m), from the east side is surrounded by Tranjina (1055 m) and Visočica (1967 m), from the northeast side is surrounded by Bjelašnica (2062 m) and from the south side by Velež (1969 m).

Pool of the lake originated during the process of glacial erosion. The lake has elliptical shape, it is 786 m long, and 402 m wide. Deepest part of the lake is in southeast part (17 m). The most warm water temperature is in August (25 °C) and the most cold temperature is in February (0 °C).

Boračko lake gets its water from Boračko creek and many other surrounding sources and some of them are at the bottom of the lake. From the lake flows a river called Šištica, which has a 6 km long and 60 m deep ghat, and it streams as a 30 m high waterfall in the river Neretva.

This beautiful position and clash of Continental and Mediterranean climate, wealth of endemic tree “Munika” and wealth of one hundred year old beech forests, make Boračko lake a natural air spa.

The environment of Boračko lake- nearness od canyon Neretva (rafting), canyon Rakitnica (canoeing) and beautiful mountains (hiking and climbing) make it an ideal place to stay for scouts, children and the young and also for preparations of sport teams.

Boračko lake is located 150 km from Zenica, 20 km from Konjic and is connected with asphalt road.
